Dear Mr. Weisberg,

I am enclosing a money order for Whitewash, Whitewash II and Whitewash IV. I am sure they will be as illuminating as Postmortem and Photographic Whitewash. I look forward to studying them.

I trust you are feeling better these days. At least I hope so. Anna-Marie tells me she's feeling better. She has become a big help in my writing in that she is helping me get files that I have not had access to in the past. Currently I am waiting for the Warren Commission Ballistics test report and related documents, as well as the free pages freed up by the JFK law. You know, I've been researching since 1966 and I am just NOW beginning to learn my way around the information backwaters of the assassination. I've still got so much to learn. Well patience...always patience.

A week from now, I take the wife and my daughter on a well deserved vacation to Disney World. I reckon that I need the rest between my job and the writing. My wife is a bit confused as to why John Kennedy's murder and finding answers about it should be such a consuming passion with me. She is the pragmatic one and says even if the truth is found, it won't change anything. Me...I'm not so sure. To me just knowing the truth for one's self changes things.

All my best,

Lee
